News of Commuters

To Mr. and Mrs. Harry Helberg go the thanks of all of the commuters for the wonderful job they have done this past week in furnishing an electric generator together with their valuable time to enable the Easter Cross to be lighted during Easter Week.

Final plans to ensure the success of the Fathers, Sons and Daughters night dinner at Sequoia High School Cafeteria next Wednesday night have been completed. An array of entertainment for both young and old has been obtained. The Great Cantini with his bag of tricks and a Punch and Judy Show provided by Fred Rasmussen are some of the features promised.

House Committee members have a few tickets left for sale and Mama if Dad hasn't already bought his tickets, you should do so for him, as you get the night off, remember?

The House Committee meeting held at the residence of Jim Smith set a record for attendance. What the occasion was will never be known. "Loco" Bill McKeehan cut his trip short to Phoenix and hurried home to attend.

Paul Allen and Vince Malone took a night off from selling insurance to be there. Huddled in various corners, you could see Bill Curran and Al Armitage arguing over the price of paper, Walt Stephenson explaining the shortage of money, from a bankers' point of view, Ray Cereghino, Chuck Sterry, Bert Morgan and Jim Smith studying price lists of builders hardware, Clarence Brize taking orders for soda pop, Norm Meyer and Stan Perkins looking for real estate prospects, Roy Fredlund explaining the technic of good coffee making.

Frank Hull looking for an ink well to fill, S. Kimberly talking over the traffic safety situation, Ed Horgan passing out cigarettes and bubble gum, George Raubinger selling a few groceries, "Doc" Boyd—like pulling teeth to get anything out of him, and Duke Martin trying to get the meeting started.

Next Saturday, the first outing for Troop 160 (Boy Scouts) will be held at Memorial Park. Commuters who may have a car available to help provide transportation for the boys should contact Walt Stephenson before Friday.

The sun dial at Bill Dobbyn's home on Buena Vista Ave., hasn't been set for Daylight Saving yet, consequently Bill is a little tardy arising these mornings. Too late for the 7:28 he is learning the Levy-Armistage pinocle system on the 7:43.

Mr. Bullock's Son Named in Estate

The estate of Joseph J. Bullock, veteran San Mateo County criminal lawyer, has been left in trust for his son, Joseph Jr., according to the will, filed this afternoon in superior court.

The will was filed after memorial services in the court of Judge Aylett R. Cotton, sitting jointly with Judge Edmond Scott.

James T. O'Keefe Sr., now the oldest member of the bar in the county, led the tributes paid to Mr. Bullock with:

"The dean of the bar has filed a closing brief in the case of Death vs. All People."

The courtroom was packed with attorneys, county officials and friends of Mr. Bullock, who died last Wednesday at the age of 80.

His name will continue to head the law firm he founded, according to his partner, Gerard Wagstaffe.

"He had no personal life as such," Wagstaffe said of Mr. Bullock. "He had a professional life—he lived here in the courtroom."

The two judges adjourned their courts in honor of Mr. Bullock.

Although Mr. Bullock's acquaintances have guessed that his estate would total close to a million dollars, close friends today said that it would be about $100,000.

Except for two bequests of $2500 each, the estate goes to the son in trust until he is 35 years old. He now is 26.

Mr. Bullock in his will made no bequests to a son and daughter by his first marriage. They are Grant and Grace Bullock, living in the East Bay area.

The $2500 bequests were made to Wagstaffe and to Mrs. Mary Fayal, Mr. Bullock's housekeeper. Wagstaffe and the Bank of America were named coexecutors.

During the memorial services, the judges called on Richard J. Dolwig, president of the County Bar Assn., to speak, and Dolwig in turn asked members of the bar group. The others who spoke were Charles N. Kirkbride, John W. Coleberd and Ray Daba, another one of Mr. Bullock's partners.

Redwood City Concert Association Begins Campaign for Memberships This Week

Community Concert Assn. of Redwood City started its week long campaign for memberships last night at Rick's Studio Club with a charter membership dinner for more than 65 members and guests. The arrangements for the dinner were made by Mrs. C. B. Currie and Mrs. R. J. L. Currie, dinner chairman.

Mayor W. W. Hilton and Mrs. Hilton, City Mgr. E. A. Rolison and Mrs. Rolison, Mel Holtz from the Chicago headquarters of the association, and the volunteer workers were special guests at the dinner.

E. W. Butler, secretary of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the local Community Concert Assn., presided as master of ceremonies.

He introduced C. B. Selden, president of the association, and Mayor Hilton, both of whom spoke a few words.

The dinner launched the campaign of one week, which will close on Saturday, during which a large corps of volunteer workers, organized by Mrs. Park Q. Wray and Mrs. S. S. Mayo, co-chairmen, will enroll members for the association.

The concerts will be held in the Sequoia High School Auditorium later in the year. Since the auditorium holds only approximately 1000 seats, only that many memberships will be taken.

A membership will entitle the holder to attend all the concerts given at the local high school, by nationally known artists, who will be selected by the executive committee on Saturday, as well as concerts in communities who also are members of the Community Concert Assn.

"Everyone is invited to enroll as a member. This is your community project and if you are not contacted by one of the volunteer workers you are urged to go to the headquarters in your community and enroll. The Sequoia High School Auditorium is limited in seating capacity and only the first thousand who purchase memberships can be accommodated," Mr. Butler said. Campaign headquarters are located at the Treasure Chest, 704 Winslow St., Redwood City; Brown's Music and Radio Shop at 567 Laurel St. in San Carlos; or Allerton's Jewelry, 211 El Camino Real in Menlo Park.

The association guarantees a minimum of three concerts a season by the nation's top ranking artists, artists who have played or sung in the Metropolitan Opera House, at Carnegie Hall and in concerts all over the nation.

Special speaker at the dinner was Miss Lucille Thompson, organization director of International Community Concert Service of New York, a division of Columbia Concerts Inc. Miss Thompson and Mr. Holtz will remain in Redwood City this week to assist the officials in details of the subscription campaign.

Volunteer workers who attended the dinner last night were: From Redwood City, Mmes. Emmett Donnelly, H. F. Goyker, T. L. Williams, J. W. Brand, Dorian Taggart, Dalmir Berglund, Newton Frayn, M. K. Supervisors Seek Use of SF Jail

A new effort to house the overflow prisoners of the San Mateo County Jail in San Francisco's bastille was started today by the board of supervisors.

The board, bypassing County Executive Frederick Peterson, decided to confer with Sheriff McGrath with a view to sending prisoners from the crowded jail to be cared for by San Francisco at a reported price of 80 cents a day each.

Peterson was bypassed after the board called for his records on the arrangements which he made with San Francisco last year. Peterson replied that his arrangements were made by telephone.

"Telephone conversation!" Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey exploded. "That don't prove anything!"

"I think we should take a direct method and go to the sheriff about it," Supervisor Henry W. Edmonds declared, adding, "in view of the past experience in dealing with Peterson."

Peterson last year reported that San Francisco was willing to house the overflow from the San Mateo County Jail at a "nominal" cost. McGrath, claiming that arrangements were not specific, has not transferred any of the prisoners.

$2500 Blaze Damages SC Home

A fire started by an overheated fireplace resulted in $2500 damages to the home of E. O. Harms, 434 Emerald St., San Carlos, this week, San Carlos Fire Chief Lyle Clark reported today.

Clark said that the fire started in studding in between fireplace bricks and worked up into the attic. The fire was reported at 11:53 p.m.

Harms and neighbors brought the fire partially under control by the time the fire department reached the scene, Clark said. Damage was confined to the back wall and attic of the house.

Harms said that he was awakened at 9 p.m. by the smell of smoke but thought it was merely the fireplace smoking and went back to sleep.

Clark declared that the studding had probably been ignited by the heat of the fireplace.

At 3:43 p.m. yesterday, San Carlos firemen extinguished a fire in a car belonging to J. C. Raspadore, 934 Capuchino Ave., Burlingame.

Oma Fulton of San Carlos Becomes Mrs. Donald Holland

Oma Fulton of San Carlos became the wife of Donald Holland of San Mateo in an Easter Sunday service at the First Methodist Church in Burlingame.

Edgar Fulton, gave his daughter in marriage; and Rev. Mr. Kissell performed the ceremony.

Clusters of seed pearls held the finger-tip veil in place, over a white slipper satin gown with fitted bodice and long full skirt. The lace trim on the skirt matched the wide lace trim on the net veil.

A bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia was the final touch to the white bridal ensemble.

Maid of honor, Miss Patricia Johnson, of Oakland, wore a pastel blue gown, with hoops over the hips, off the shoulder neckline and short puffed sleeves. A halo of white carnations, centered with Talisman roses, matched the bouquet of the same floral arrangement.

Miss Roberta Holland, sister of the groom from San Mateo, wore a pastel yellow gown like the maid of honor's, except that the skirt was fully gored instead of hooped.

Mrs. Robert Waterman, of Menlo Park, wore pastel pink as the other attendant to the bride, and both bridesmaids carried the white carnation and Talisman rose arrangements, and wore halos of the same flowers in their hair.

Ralph Holland, the groom's brother was best man.

Robert Fulton, brother of the bride, and William Appleberry, cousin of the groom, were the other male attendants.

Mrs. Fulton wore an aqua gabardine suit with black and white hat and accessories, and a camellia and bouvardia corsage for her daughter's wedding.

The groom's mother chose a gray print dress, black accessories, with the same type of corsage.

Patricia Johnson caught the bridal bouquet at the reception in the American Legion Hall in San Mateo following the wedding service. The hall was decorated with calla lilies and yellow spring flowers. A three-tiered wedding cake was the center of the table decor.

Honored guests at the reception were Mrs. Edith Fulton, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bryant, and Carol, from Ventura; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fulton and Sheryl all of San Carlos.

Oma is a graduate of Sequoia High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fulton of Edgemoor Drive in San Carlos. Robert and W. D. Fulton are her brothers, both of whom reside in San Carlos.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton of San Mateo, is a graduate of San Mateo Junior College, served in the army in the recent war, and is at present employed with a San Francisco firm.

State Votes $125,000 RC Armory

The State Public Works Board in Sacramento today has approved the expenditure of $125,000 for the erection of a permanent armory in Redwood City, although a proposed budget was cut nearly two-thirds.

Maj. Gen. Curtis D. O'Sullivan, state adjutant general, had asked the board for $1,900,000 for the permanent armory construction program in California. This figure was cut to $700,000 when the board learned that site had not been obtained for all the cities involved.

The Redwood City Park and Recreation Commission has recommended that the city turn over to the National Guard approximately two acres in Community Park at Roosevelt Ave. and Valota Rd. for use as an armory site. The council has not yet approved this recommendation but is expected to.

The $125,000 the state puts up for the armory is to be matched by another $125,000 from the federal government for vehicle storage and shops.

The building is to be of concrete and similar in exterior plan to a new recreation building the city now has under construction at the park. It is to house a general assembly room 110 feet by 60 feet which would be sufficient for a standard basketball court with bleachers.

The armory is also to contain a custodian's office, an orderly room, a supply room, a strong room, a locker room and showers and a small class room.

To Name Committee On Youth Problems

A committee to help curb juvenile drinking in San Mateo County will be picked Apr. 19 in a meeting to be held at the San Mateo City Hall, according to E. J. Miller, a State Board of Equalization staff member.

Miller said that invitations will be sent out to interested groups and agencies, such as the district attorney's office, the probation committee, the sheriff's office, the boards of education and the recreation departments.

San Mateo County is getting some $80,000 yearly from Alcoholic Beverage Control funds, Miller said, and these funds could be used to strengthen control of juvenile drinking.

He said that local law enforcement agencies should concern themselves with liquor law enforcement, instead of leaving it all to the board of equalization.

Tribune Carriers Deposit $1448 Under Savings Plan

Tribune carriers have deposited $1448.94 in the bank as part of a Tribune savings plan for carriers.

Heading the list in amount of money saved are Harold Daros, 13-year-old McKinley School student and Chris Zimmer, 15-year-old Sequoia High School student.

Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Daros, 315 Beresford Ave., has saved $180.18 and Chris, son of Mr. E. H. Zimmer, 227 Finger Ave., has saved $122.66.

Under the savings plan, carriers may deposit part of their earnings each month; as little as $2.50 and in multiples up to any amount. Some carriers deposit as much as $15 each month.

Withdrawals are made upon receipt of parents approval any time the boy needs money.

3500 Join Search for Eggs Here In Junior Chamber Easter Hunt

Under clear skies that helped to bolster attendance 3500 parents and children participated in the Redwood City Junior Chamber of Commerce Easter egg hunt Saturday afternoon at Community Park.

The event, the first since before the war, was termed by officials who had worked in previous hunts as the largest in history.

Led by the Easter bunny and Easter chicken, the youngsters began their search for 2000 assorted eggs, plus a variety of other items, after the bunny had arrived by fire truck and the accompanying sirens from official city vehicles.

Ten minutes after the hunt began it was all over; however, the remainder of the two-hour show was consumed in presenting those who garnered the golden eggs with such surprises as bicycles, wagons, dolls, and other Easter presents.

The line of contestants stretched two to four deep along Madison Ave. for two-blocks. While the Easter bunny was greeting the youngsters the eager boys in the 7 to 13 age bracket section made their break, and they were followed by the girls and smaller children.

Many Boy Scouts, under the supervision of Asst. Scout Executive Chet Wilson, acted in the capacity of guards and handled the excited crowds which began to gather two hours before the show began.

Chmn. George Robertson reported that although a steady stream of lost children and parents paraded before the announcers platform during the Airplanes which dropped parachutes containing bags of jelly beans provided the only part of the program which could not be controlled. A high wind blew many of the parachutes into yards of adjoining property and youngsters and men going after them trampled some of the gardens.

Assisting the junior chamber in Saturday's show were the Redwood City Police, Fire and Recreation Depts., (Tex) Bean, Redwood Nash Motors, the Boy Scouts of America, Dr. Ralph Jacobs and Davies Auto Co.

Home Builders Council Due to Hear National President

Milton J. Brock, president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, will speak in San Francisco, Tuesday, the first annual conference of the Home Builders of California, according to Milton W. Morris, executive secretary.

"I'll be glad to be present," Brock said in accepting the invitation. "The situation now facing the nation's home builders is no less than crucial. Our mortgage funds are drying up, the Title VI authorization is practically exhausted, and the entire veterans' housing program for the year is seriously endangered. This has come about so recently that neither the Congress, the administration leaders in Washington nor the veterans groups have a full realization of its urgency. It is no exaggeration to say that it is of crisis proportions and remedies must be promptly applied."

In his letter to the council, Brock outlined the approved steps to be taken:

Last night the council also: Heard a report on the procedure of adopting and reading ordinances and resolutions from Attorney Ernest Wilson.

Named Fred Drake as San Carlos representative on the Bay Area Transit Authority.

Set Apr. 14 as the date of opening bids of the Beverly Hills and Sunset Highlands sewer project.

Postponed accepting a bid on the recreation center well and pump until next Wednesday.

Lowest bid was that of the Henry Wrigley Jr. Co. for $6698.

Adjourned until Mar. 31 when, according to Kearns, all unfinished business of the present council will be concluded.

Members who will take office in July are Spencer Fish, president; Duane Loughlin, vice president; John Taylor, secretary; Ray Snow, treasurer; Dr. R. M. Olsson-Seffer, sergeant-at-arms; and Melville Homfeld, chairman of committees.

Members of the new board of directors are George F. Cleese Jr., John J. Garland, Daniel Hayes, Fish, Loughlin, Taylor and Homfeld.

Special speaker at yesterday's meeting was Menlo Park Police Judge Edward J. Ryan, Ryan outlined the organization of the California judicial system.

The Rotary Club will change its meeting place to the Marie Antoinette Restaurant on Noel Drive in Menlo Park on April 7.

SC Council Asks County Aid In Obtaining School Sites

The San Carlos City Council this week voted to ask the board of supervisors to approve selling several lots in Arguello Park to the San Carlos School Dist.

The lots were deeded to San Carlos by the county recently to be used for park purposes and City Atty. Carl Anderson told councilmen that the council could be held liable if it sold the property to the school district for $25 a lot.

A letter was drawn up asking the supervisors to act on the property transfer and stating that the city wanted a provision that the school could only use the land for recreation purposes.

Five San Carlos citizens were appointed by Mayor Patrick J. Kearns to a newly created electric power screening board for the city.

Those appointed include Mrs. Effie Mahany, Noel Pennington, Henry Wrigley Jr., James J. Joy, and Julius Edling.

The committee was appointed on the order of Power Director Robert O'Brien who has asked all communities in the state to name committees to screen applications for additional power

Rent Control Extension Bill Became Law Last Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new rent control law, described by President Truman as weak but better than none, went into effect at midnight last night.

Some 50,000,000 Americans are covered by the measure extending modified controls to March 31, 1949.

The President in signing the bill late Tuesday said in a statement: "We can not hope to be wholly successful in holding the line on rents by the powers granted in this act."

But he promised that the administration "will do everything it can under this act to hold rents to reasonable levels."

The new law does not provide for any general rent increases, but does permit boosts up to 15 per cent where tenants and landlords agree on a lease running through 1949.

The major change from the old law is the creation of a special federal court which has final say on raising or removing ceilings whenever Federal Housing Expediter Tighe Woods disputes a local board's findings. The law says the court must uphold any board which gives "adequate and substantial evidence" to support rent changes.

Mr. Truman said rents have increased at least six per cent "since the rent control law was weakened last June." He appealed for early congressional action on a federal housing program to help ease the shortage.

"It is evident that only through substantial additions to the supply of rental housing, especially in the low and medium price range, can the need for rent control be eliminated," he said.

Raymond M. Foley, federal housing administrator, told a House committee Monday that 1,000,000 new homes and apartments will have to be built in the next ten years to relieve the housing shortage.

Name County Group To Power Checkup

A power conservation committee to aid in saving electrical power was appointed this week by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors at the request of Governor Earl Warren.

The committee is to serve only the unincorporated sections of the county. Each city council and other boards of supervisors in the state are being asked to name similar groups.

Governor Warren asked the appointment of the committee to aid Robert P. O'Brien of Redwood City, emergency power director, to screen applications for electrical energy. The committee is to make its recommendations to O'Brien.

The committee named by the board consists of Frank E. Olson, San Mateo, representing labor; Charles Beffa, San Mateo, the farm representative; Charles T. Cole, Redwood City, representing industry; Anthony Gaggero, Daly City, business representative; and Alfred C. Musante, Burlingame, representing home owners.

GARDEN: Nutrient Salts Useful for Flower Growth

By ROLLY LANGLEY

Recently interest has increased in growing vegetables and flowers in nutrient solutions. Inquiries for nutrient solutions range from carrots to camellias. Since camellias are relatively slow growing, I'd suggest they be planted in the right soil, and that nutrient solution be added as fertilizer. Faster growing vegetables, grown in sand, give a much better chance for the amateur to experiment and enjoy quick results.

The sand trench should have sufficient drainage so that no solution or water will accumulate on a rising level in the trench. If the surrounding ground is hard, you can put your trench down 14 inches and fill the bottom with a couple of inches of gravel.

You can buy a complete nutrient salts, which readily goes into solution at your garden supply store, nursery, or even at the 5 & 10 cent variety stores. There are several brands, and all of them have a label showing the percentages of the different essential minerals contained. With these, you make the solution by adding the amount of water noted on the label.

You'll learn more as you go along, but as a starter, try putting the solution through once a week. Back in the Middle West, the greenhousers who grow commercial with the nutrient solutions have their benches of sand, cinders or glass wool arranged so they recover the solution as it drains through. However, the cost is so little that you can well afford to make fresh solution once a week.

I've given various formulae here before, but we'll shoot another, and this time I hope that those who are in the least interested will clip it and file against the time they may want to try it.

First, you'll want to make up two "stock" solutions, containing the trace elements, and we'll call these Stock A and Stock B.

Stock A, in a half gallon of water, dissolve simultaneously one teaspoon each of boric acid (H₃BO₃), manganese sulphate (MnSO₄·7H₂O) and zinc sulphate (ZnSO₄·7H₂O). To this solution, an eighth teaspoon of copper sulphate (CuSO₄·5H₂O) is added.

Stock B, Dissolve 1/4 teaspoonful of iron chloride (FeCl₃) or nitrate (Fe(NO₃)₃) in one pint of water. Or you may use ferric sulphate (FeSO₄·7H₂O). Or you can use ferric citrate.

Stock A should be added to the "culture" solution in the proportion of two teaspoonful to five gallons of culture solution. (Don't use more.)

Stock B solution should be added to the "culture" solution in the proportion of four teaspoonful per gallon of culture solution. On bright sunny days, more iron may be needed, and you can tell by a yellowing of the leaves.

Culture solutions are many. Here's one prepared by the N. J. Agricultural Experiment Station: Use four quart jars and in each dissolve one of the chemicals to follow: (1) 1 1/2 teaspoonful Monopotassium phosphate (KH₂PO₄) (2) Four teaspoonful Calcium nitrate (Ca(NO₃)₂·4H₂O). (3) 2 1/2 teaspoonful Magnesium sulphate (MgSO₄·7H₂O). (4) a half teaspoonful Ammonium Sulphate, (NH₄2SO₄).

When you have dissolved these four chemicals, each in a different quart of water, pour them into a container holding four gallons of water, and you'll have five gallons of "culture" solution. After adding the Stock A and Stock B solutions you have the "nutrient" solution, which contains all the minerals essential to plant life, and can sustain plants without benefit of soil.

Now you can also make a nutrient solution worked out by Purdue University, using commercial-grade chemicals or fertilizers:

To five gallons of water add 1 1/2 teaspoons of magnesium sulphate, 1 1/2 teaspoons of double superphosphate, 3/4 teaspoon of potassium nitrate and 1 1/4 teaspoons of ammonium sulphate. These are all "simples" fertilizers, except for the magnesium sulphate which is (technical grade) epsom salts.

Enough impurities are present in the fertilizers above so that you won't have to use Stocks A and B, or if you do, only in small amount.

Let's hope these solutions are the solution to your problem. But remember, you can buy packages of the chemicals already mixed in proper proportion and ready for dissolving in water, if you don't care to prepare your own.

New Health Director Due Today

San Mateo County's new health director is to be named today, on the heels of civil service oral examinations being given today to the top 12 candidates.

A special qualifications board today was interviewing each of the 12 candidates, among whom is Dr. Harold Marks, superintendent of Community Hospital.

After the interviews are finished, the board is to rank each candidate in order. The top three names, comprising the eligibility list, will be referred to the County Board of Health for its recommendation.

County Executive Frederick Peterson, who has announced that he will follow the health board's recommendation, is to make the appointment tomorrow. His choice then goes to the board of supervisors for ratification.

The new health director is to succeed Dr. Charles C. Gans, who retired in February at the age of 70. Dr. Marks has been acting health director since that time.

The civil service commission recently revised the specifications for the health director's job and boosted the salary to a range of $12,000 to $15,000.

A total of 55 candidates from all over the United States applied for the post. Written examinations cut the eligibles down to 37, and from this group the 12 best qualified were selected.

Of those being interviewed today, seven are from California, and one each from Michigan, Washington, Maryland, Massachusetts and Illinois.

The seven-man qualification board consists of Dr. Edward S. Rogers, dean of the School of Public Health, University of California, and former deputy health officer for the state of New York.

Daniel E. Koshland of Hillsborough, president of Levi Strauss Co. and San Mateo County civic leader.

Dr. William J. Kerr, San Mateo, professor of medicine at the University of California hospital.

Dr. G. O. Whitcotton, medical director of Alameda County.

Dr. Olin M. Holmes, San Mateo physician and chairman of the County Board of Health.

Dr. Charles E. Smith, professor of public health and preventive medicine at the Stanford University School of Medicine; and president of the State Board of Health.

George N. Keyton, member of the civil service commission.

RC Man Guilty Of Drunk Charge

Clyde Ellis, 26-year-old seaman of 2111 Brewster Ave., pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving and was given two years' probation by San Mateo Municipal Judge Francis W. Murphy, on condition he serve five days in the county jail.

Ellis was given credit for three days already served since his arrest, and his driver's license was suspended for 90 days. He was arrested Wednesday night by San Mateo police following a collision on El Camino Real, San Mateo.

Penney Store Here Gets New Manager

F. H. Miller Jr., manager of the J. C. Penney store in Redwood City, announced today that his company is transferring him to Oroville, where he will manage the Penney's store.

RC Villa Hearing Becomes Protest

Redwood City started a public hearing on proposed Redwood Villa Park assessment rolls recently but they became involved in a long discussion of the street work for which the assessments are to be collected.

After the session, City Atty. Cuthbert Currie said the hearing was only to hear protests concerning the justice of assessments, not against the quality of street work.

Council had already, however, continued the hearing until April 8 in order to give City Engineer Glenn Jain an opportunity to inspect the work and call on those who protested.

Most of the complaints were directed at city inspectors of the work installed by Contractor Peter Sorensen, who claimed that "nobody got skinned" on the job.

Among those who protested were:

B. L. Weiler, 201 Park St., who said there was improper drainage at Madrone and Park Sts.

G. W. Kraft, 211 Center St., who said there was already a hole in a sidewalk in front of his home.

Dan Foley, 409 Center St., who said the pitch of the street at his home was improper and that water laid near the crown of the street.

Mrs. C. F. Rehbock, 167 Park St., who claimed that a tree should not have been cut down at Park and Madrone when the work was undertaken. She also protested a relocation of her driveway ramp.

Jain said after the meeting the contractor was responsible for fixing minor defects in the job which had already been accepted and approved by the city.

Bank Officials To Attend Parley

Managers I. H. Potter and Jake Buhler of the Redwood City and California-Broadway branches of the Bank of America have accepted an invitation from L. M. Giannini, president of the bank, to attend a statewide conference of all the branch managers and many of the administrative officers of the institution.

San Mateo County Farm Crops Show Huge Decline in 1947

The value of farm products produced in San Mateo County dropped more than $1,000,000, during 1947, County Agricultural Commissioner Max J. Leonard reported today.

Last year's total production value was $16,033,440, compared to the 1946 figure of $17,044,744.

The decrease was accounted for entirely by the decrease in the production of vegetables, which in 1947 fell to third place in the cash crop list, behind livestock products and flowers.

Leonard reported that the value of the vegetable crops last year was $4,184,088, dropping from the 1946 mark of $5,258,965. About two-thirds of the loss was in Brussels sprouts, until this year king of the Coastside truck gardens.

Sprouts, which in 1946 grossed $1,463,616, last year dropped to $708,050, second to its big brother, cabbages. Whose value rose from $765,315 in 1946 to $900,240 last year.

Leonard's assistant, Bruce Martin, blamed high costs and poor growing weather for the decline of income to the farmers from vegetables.

Labor costs have continued high, Martin said, forcing many farmers to switch from truck garden crops, which require hand cultivation, to field crops where machines can do the work more cheaply.

Prices paid the farmer have declined from 5 to 25 per cent, Martin declared, but the producer's costs have remained at a constant high level. He said that in addition to labor, fertilizer and equipment costs have followed this pattern.

As to the sprouts, dry, hot weather, coupled with loss due to aphids, have cut down yields. The report shows that while 1848 acres were planted to sprouts in 1946, only 1190 acres were used for this crop last year.

Artichokes, another large Coastside crop, was more popular with the farmers last year. The report shows that 1977 acres were planted to this crop, a gain of 258 acres, and that the value of the crop was $593,100, a gain of $120,306.

The decline in the earnings generally is in line with the decline in acreage. In 1946 farmers planted 10,616 acres to truck garden crops. Last year it was 8674.

The value of field crops, on the other hand, increased from $828,637 in 1946 to $1,378,310 last year.

The biggest increase was in flax, not only acreage and production, but also in the prices received by the farmer.

In 1946, farmers planted 3295 acres in flax, got a yield of 58,310 bushels which grossed $141,158. Last year 5861 acres produced 87,915 bushels, but the value soared to $593,426.

The value of bee and livestock products dropped slightly from the previous year, but still remained in first place. Last year the value was $5,325,762, compared to $5,697,088. More than half of last year's income in this category was received for dairy products, or a total of $2,735,808, despite the fact that dairy herds were cut from 12,829 head in 1946 to 11,083 last year.

Fruit and nut crops, in a minor position in San Mateo County, grossed $78,106, a sharp drop from the $172,637 in 1946.

The flower industry, kept at a steady producing level by the demand from new residents and "foreign" markets, grossed $5,037,254, slightly less than the $5,087,948 collected in 1946.

Question of Organizing Two New PTA Units In San Carlos Discussed by Panel

"Shall San Carlos have two new Parent-Teacher units?" was the topic of discussion at the PTA meeting on Tuesday afternoon in the Central School Auditorium.

Preceding the panel discussion and question period the club president, Mrs. Lester West presided at the regular monthly business meeting.

J. Emmett Mahoney, acting as moderator, introduced the members of the panel, who discussed the issue of whether or not there should be two new PTA units organized in San Carlos. A unit at the Arundel and one at White Oaks School were the new organizations suggested. Ballots will be sent out to parents of the districts this week.

Miss Ruth Melendy, school superintendent, voiced the opening opinion that the matter was not a simple one, and deserved clear and cautious thinking.

Mrs. William Barthold, first speaker, expressed the thought that the problems of organizing a new unit at White Oaks did not seem insurmountable, but the move should come from the parents, and not be forced from without.

Mrs. C. E. Hansen, representing the membership committee, said the membership of 1907 was a pretty big job to handle and that the 84 room mothers that came under the work of the committee made it an unwieldy job. She suggested that the room mothers at least be put under a separate head next year.

Mrs. Myron Greenlee, from the Arundel School Dist. attributed the solidarity of the town to the PTA and expressed doubt as to whether or not that solidarity would not be broken by a split in the organization. She suggested either three separate PTA units, with definite provision in the by-laws for unity; or one unit, with three complete committees under the central head.

Mrs. John Winther, from White Oaks, was definitely opposed to the separate unit at White Oaks, on the basis of its being "too much work."

Mrs. G. J. Sirex, speaking as a representative of the 17th District as well as a concerned member of the unit, discussed the issue on the basis of size, geography, unity, and responsibility. She said that expression is better in smaller units and one becomes better acquainted and works more. Geographically speaking, there are different problems in different parts of town and the existing boundaries are something already there. As to unity, she said, "rivalry is healthy and stimulating and does not need to be detrimental." Finally she felt it was not fair to Central to saddle them with the responsibility of two other schools beside their own.

In the question period, Mrs. Calvin Hector and Mrs. Howard Galloway from the new Arundel School expressed themselves strongly in favor of the new unit in that section of town. "We have problems peculiar to our own district," said Mrs. Hector, "and we want to face them ourselves, close to home."

Mrs. Galloway said, "More total good by more people working," and she felt the total good was what parents should be in favor of in the final analysis.

The meeting was opened by the Girl Scouts and Brownies of Troop 33 presented the flag salute; while the Intermediate Troop 48 presented two program numbers, "Clown School" and "Portraits of the first Girl Scouts." Other scouts helped with the refreshments, ushering, and care of the children during the meeting.

Orchesis Members at Stanford To Present Original Dances

Seventeen original modern dance compositions based on classic French court dances of the 15th and 16th centuries will be presented by Stanford student members of Orchesis, honorary dance society, in their annual spring concert Apr. 8 and 10 at 8:15 p.m. in Memorial Hall auditorium on the campus.

The dances were developed in choreography classes during fall and winter quarters under the supervision of Mrs. Miriam Lister, director of dance in women's physical education. This year the girls have taken as their theme the old French court dances, such as the minuet and the courante. Although interpreted strictly in the modern idiom, the dances retain the original feeling and mood of the old court dances.

The program is varied in mood, ranging from light and gay numbers such as "Spiritus Fermentis" and "Roundup" to the deeply serious study, "There Are No Tears?"

There is no admission charge for the concert, which is Orchesis' chief project of the year.

All SM County Posts Contested on June 1 Except Judge Cotton's

Contested elections will be held June 1 for all but one San Mateo County political post which is to be filled this year, according to the final results of filings with County Clerk William H. Augustus.

Last candidate to file before Saturday's deadline was Edward J. Carrigan, San Mateo labor leader. Carrigan filed nomination papers for both the Republican and Democratic primary elections for the post of state senator, to which Harry Parkman seeks reelection.

The only post for which there is no contest is that of superior judge. Aylett R. Cotton, the incumbent, is running for reelection.

The political lineup for the June 1 election:

Congress—Jack Z. Anderson, incumbent; Oliver Todd, Palo Alto; Jonathan Rowell, Redwood City. All have cross-filed on both Republican and Democratic tickets, and Rowell also has filed on the Independent Progressive Party ticket.

State Senate—Harry L. Parkman, incumbent, of Millbrae; Edward J. Carrigan, San Mateo. Both cross-filed.

State Assembly—Richard J. Dolwig, incumbent, of South San Francisco; Robert Hardgrove, Burlingame. Dolwig cross-filed; Hardgrove filed on the Democratic ticket.

Superior Judge—Aylett R. Cotton, incumbent, San Mateo.

Board of Supervisors—First Dist.: Thomas L. Hickey, incumbent, South San Francisco; Roy P. Womack, San Bruno. Third Dist.: Henry W. Edmonds, incumbent; Arthur V. Swift, both of Redwood City. Fourth Dist.: Alvin S. Hatch, incumbent, Half Moon Bay; James W. Healy, Princeton.

Augustus said that Charles R. Garry of Daly City, an attorney who has his office in San Francisco, filed here this morning for congressman from the Fifth Dist., to oppose Richard Welch of San Francisco, the incumbent. By law, a congressional candidate does not have to be a resident of the district from which he runs for election.

One of the hottest races expected on June 1 will be over the selection of county committeemen for the various political parties. The applications are being checked, but were not ready until today, Augustus declared.

More than 100 persons have filed for the committee posts. Each party is allowed 22 committeemen, and Augustus said that there would be contests in every supervisorial district but

Soroptimist Club Organized in San Carlos, Belmont

Mrs. Lloyd Underwood of Belmont was elected temporary chairman of the newly formed San Carlos-Belmont Soroptimist Club, when it held its first meeting on Tuesday at the Gables in Belmont.

Temporary secretary, who will serve with Mrs. Underwood, will be Mrs. Phil Liddy of San Carlos. Mrs. Lavinia Wollmer, president of the Burlingame-San Mateo Soroptimists, assisted Mrs. Blanche Edgar from Sacramento, in the organization of the group. The Burlingame-San Mateo Soroptimists will act as sponsors for the new club.

An international organization, with clubs in 23 countries of the world, including China, Japan, Great Britain, as well as America and Europe, the organization is one based on the principles of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs for men, according to the new president.

Professional and business women join to widen their personal and business contacts, and only women in managerial or executive positions are eligible, Mrs. Underwood said.

Weekly luncheons are being planned, according to the new officers.

Safeway Trims It Before Weighing

SO YOU SAVE MONEY

We'll give you 2 T-Bone Steaks

(they won't cost you a penny)

if ever you get a SAFEWAY T-Bone not trimmed this money-saving way

TOUGH MEAT removed from end of steak by Safeway before we weigh your T-bone on the market scales. It gives you a steak that eats tender in every part

EXCESS FAT is trimmed off by Safeway before we weigh the steak. This is another extra step that gives you more good-eating meat for your money

EXCESS BONE and gristle at top end of steak cut off by Safeway before weighing . . . so you don't pay for these waste parts

It means more tender, juicy meat in every pound you pay for...a bigger value for your meat dollar at Safeway!

YOU SEE ABOVE how Safeway removes excess waste, fat and bone from T-bone steaks before weighing. And the test-purchase report presented here shows you how important it is to compare trimming as well as price.

We prepare other cuts in similar fashion — each one according to its special requirements. This waste-free cutting is part of Safeway's Guaranteed Meats plan. We regularly trim our meats this way.

When you compare meat prices, remember that Safeway's prices always are on the TRIMMED cut, free of excess bone, waste and fat, ready for cooking.

If ever you're not satisfied that the meat you buy at Safeway is trimmed the money-saving way we say, just show it to the manager of the Safeway store where you bought it. If your Safeway T-bone steak (for example) is NOT trimmed as shown above—you get TWO T-bone steaks without a penny's extra cost (and without quibble or argument!)

Safeway buys nothing less than the top government grades of beef (all beef sold at Safeway is U.S. Government graded) . . . nothing less than the top grades of lamb, pork and veal. More. We hold our meats the full number of days needed to bring out peak flavor and tenderness. And we safeguard their goodness with exact temperature controls.

Come prove for yourself—there's more good-eating at less cost in Guaranteed Meats from Safeway!

Test purchases by Independent Bureau show you can save money on meat

We asked an independent research organization to check methods of trimming meat here.

And we secured proof that it pays you to check trimming as closely as you check price when buying meat.

In 201 representative markets in this area where they bought meat they found a great variation in the way meat is trimmed.

In 95% of the markets other than Safeway, T-bone steaks purchased were not trimmed before weighing.

Had the T-bone steaks been first trimmed and then weighed (as Safeway does), the average saving would have been almost 11¢ per pound. Customers of some of these stores would have saved amounts up to 26¢ per pound.

This survey shows unmistakably that thousands of housewives in this area are paying regular meat prices — which are high enough these days, goodness knows — for waste that is thrown away!

Example: For T-bone steaks purchased UNTRIMMED shoppers paid an average of almost 22¢ more per 2-lb. steak than if these steaks had been trimmed BEFORE weighing. In some markets as much as 52¢ more!

Example: For rib roasts purchased UNTRIMMED shoppers paid an average of over 54¢ more per 6-lb. roast than if these roasts had been trimmed BEFORE weighing.

Example: For rib lamb chops purchased UNTRIMMED shoppers paid an average of over 18¢ more for six chops than if these chops had been trimmed BEFORE weighing.

Example: For legs of lamb purchased UNTRIMMED shoppers paid an average of over 42¢ more per 6-lb. roast than if these roasts had been trimmed BEFORE weighing.

You are entitled to these worthwhile savings on the meats you buy. Trade with a market that trims meat BEFORE weighing!
